About Educo Life Sciences

Educo Life Sciences is a learning and development specialist providing technical training solutions to the pharmaceutical, biotechnology, cell & gene and medical device industries.

We are focused on improving the skills and knowledge of life science professionals, so they perform with confidence, accelerate their careers and drive innovation.

Technical training for the pharmaceutical, biopharmaceutical and medical device industries

Looking to Train Your Team?

If you want to train a small group, we offer a group discount between 5% and 50% on all our scheduled courses. The discount is dependent on the course and the number of attendees. Please get in touch with us for a quote.

We also design and deliver fully customised courses focused on your products, processes, technologies and challenges. This is ideal for specific training requirements or larger groups. Please get in touch with us for more information.
